

The physical Universe in which we magically find ourselves is filled with mysteries and wonders luring us to explore and discover the unknown. One of these charming temptations is undoubtedly the world of wine and its boundless empire.

Some of them tend to consist in only two dimensions: they have length and width. They are simple wines, displaying all the fundamental elements at the first sip.

Others abide the rules of a tridimensional Universe in their totality, adding the guilty pleasure of depth and faithfully reflecting the characteristics of their origins and varietal.

The last category however, represents the wines that dominated, inspired and aroused the souls of poets and writers over the centuries, the ones that evolved and expanded to absolute purity transcending the time and space. I challenge you to discover those liquid jewels of human craftsmanship within the pages of the present wine list. Those, my friends, are the wines that will softly whisper to you from the glass:
Welcome to the Fourth Dimension!
